

Subject Pronouns: Who, Which, and That

When a relative pronoun is the subject of an adjective clause, use who, which, or that.

SUBJECT RELATIVE PRONOUNS
	People	Things
Extra Information	who	which
Necessary Information	who that (informal)	which that

- Who is used for people, and which is used for things.
- That is used for people and things. Using that for people is often considered informal.
- Use that in necessary clauses only.

Extra Information

According to legend, Valentine's Day was named for St. Valentine.

+ ^SHe ^Vwas a Roman priest.

According to legend, Valentine's Day was named for St. Valentine, ^Swho ^Vwas a Roman priest.

Roses are a typical gift for Valentine's Day. + ^SThey ^Vare usually very expensive.

Roses, ^Swhich ^Vare usually very expensive, are a typical gift for Valentine's Day

Necessary Information

In Japan, women are the ones. + ^SThey ^Vbuy chocolate on February 14.

In Japan, women are the ones ^Swho ^Vbuy chocolate on February 14.

In Japan, women are the ones ^Sthat ^Vbuy chocolate on February 14.

March 14 is the Japanese holiday. + ^SIt ^Vinvolves gift-giving from men to women.

March 14 is the Japanese holiday ^Swhich ^Vinvolves gift-giving from men to women.

March 14 is the Japanese holiday ^Sthat ^Vinvolves gift-giving from men to women.

PRACTICE 9Writing Complex Sentences with Subject Pronouns

Combine the pairs of sentences. Make the second sentence an adjective clause, and put it after the noun it modifies. Add commas as needed.

1. Many religions have food-related rules. The rules were developed for health reasons. Many religions have food-related rules that were developed for health reasons.
2. Many Christians do not eat certain foods during Lent. Lent is the six-week period before Easter Sunday.

3. People cannot eat beef. People practice the Hindu religion.

4. Muslims and Jews cannot eat pork. Pork is considered unclean.

5. Muslims cannot eat or drink at all in the daytime during Ramadan. Ramadan is a holy month of fasting.

6. The festival lasts for three days. The festival follows the end of Ramadan.

Object Pronouns: Whom, Which, That, and $\emptyset$ (no pronoun)

When the relative pronoun is an object in an adjective clause, choose the object pronoun whom, who, which, or that, or use no pronoun.

OBJECT RELATIVE PRONOUNS
	People	Things
Extra Information	whom who (informal)	which
Necessary Information	whom who (informal)	which
	that (informal)	that
	$\emptyset$	$\emptyset$

- Whom is used for people. Informally, who is used instead of whom.
- Which is used for things.
- That is used for people and things. Using that for people is often considered informal.
- Use that in necessary clauses only.

Extra Information

James Stevenson told me about Boxing Day. + I met ^S ^V ^O him in England last year.

James Stevenson, ^O ^S ^V whom I met in England last year, told me about Boxing Day.

Boxing Day is almost unknown in the United States. + ^S ^V People celebrate ^O Boxing Day in Canada, Great Britain, and other English-speaking countries.

Boxing Day, ^O ^S ^V which people celebrate in Canada, Great Britain, and other English-speaking countries, is almost unknown in the United States.

Necessary Information

A man told me about Boxing Day. + I met ^S ^V ^O him in England last year.

A man ^O ^S ^V whom I met in England last year told me about Boxing Day.

The man ^O ^S ^V who I met in England last year told me about Boxing Day.

The person ^O ^S ^V that I met in England last year told me about Boxing Day.

The person ^S ^V I met in England last year told me about Boxing Day.

The festival was a joyous event. + ^S ^V ^O We celebrated it last week.

The festival ^O ^S ^V which we celebrated last week was a joyous event.

The festival ^O ^S ^V that we celebrated last week was a joyous event.

The festival ^S ^V we celebrated last week was a joyous event.

PRACTICE 10Writing Complex Sentences with Object Pronouns

- A Change the sentence in parentheses into an adjective clause. Add it to the first sentence to make a complex sentence. Add commas as needed.

1. The people in South Korea have a harvest festival that they call Chuseok.
(They call the festival Chuseok.)
2. The special food _____ includes songpyun rice cakes.
(Koreans eat special food on Chuseok.)
3. Kimchi _____ is also part of a typical Chuseok meal.
(Koreans prepare kimchi with cabbage, other vegetables, and spices.)
4. The traditional activities _____ show the importance of family in Korean culture.
(Koreans have traditional activities for Chuseok.)

- B Combine the pairs of sentences. Rewrite the second sentence as an adjective clause, and put it after the noun it modifies. Add commas as needed. There may be more than one possible relative pronoun you can use.

1. There is a beautiful festival. Thai people celebrate the festival on the night of the full moon of the twelfth month of the lunar calendar.
There is a beautiful festival that Thai people celebrate on the night of the full moon of the twelfth month of the lunar year.
2. The name of the festival is Loy Krathong. English speakers translate Loy Krathong as "Festival of the Floating Leaf Cups" or "Festival of Lights."

3. Thais float little boats down a river in the evening. They have made the little boats out of banana leaves, lotus, or paper.

4. The Loy Krathong boats float on the water in the moonlight. Thais have decorated the Loy Krathong boats with lighted candles, incense, coins, and flowers.

5. Thais want the wish to come true. They have made a wish with their boat.

Collocations for problem/solution

☆ problem noun

¹ sth that causes difficulties

ADJ.

acute, big, enormous, grave, great, serious

Our greatest problem is the lack of funds.

| little, minor, petty | complex, complicated, difficult, knotty, thorny | growing | basic, central, main, major | common | pressing, urgent | immediate | insoluble, insuperable, insurmountable, intractable

Depression is a natural feeling if your problems seem intractable.

| long-standing, long-term, perennial | practical | technical | attitude, behavioural, emotional, psychological

His teachers say he has an attitude problem.

| health, physical, sexual | back, heart, knee | drink, drug | social | housing | economic, financial

They sold their car to ease their financial problems.

| environmental | legal

PROBLEM + VERB

arise, come up, occur

problems arising from poor ventilation

| exist | persist, remain

If the problem persists you should see a doctor. The basic problem remains the lack of housing available.

| confront sb, face sb | lie in sth

The problem lies in the lack of communication between managers and staff.

SYNONYMS FOR “PROBLEM”

problem = issue = matter = concern = challenge = trouble = hindrance = obstacle = barrier = drawback = shortcoming = predicament = worry = riddle = burden = hassle = hurdle = inconvenience

TEMPLATE OF A PROBLEM PARAGRAPH

[Clearly stating the issue.] This gives rise to several significant problems.

[.....] is the primary problem that needs addressing. This issue has led to.....

Another issue that arises from..... is that [.....]. One major impact of this is Furthermore, [.....]. Failure to address this problem may result in..... It is vital that those mentioned problems be addressed by.....soon. Otherwise, if this trend continues, there is a likelihood that

WRITING TASK

What are the problems that AI may create for the job market?

Write a 150-word paragraph in response to the above question

Fill-in-the-Blank Exercise: AI and the Job Market (with Vietnamese support)

A. Complete the sentences using suitable phrases.

1. The rapid development of _____ (trí tuệ nhân tạo) is changing the job market in many countries.
 2. AI systems can _____ (thay thế người lao động) in some industries.
 3. Machines are able to _____ (đảm nhận các công việc đơn giản) faster than people.
 4. This situation may _____ (dẫn đến mất việc làm), especially in factories and offices.
 5. As a result, AI may _____ (làm tăng tỷ lệ thất nghiệp) among workers.
 6. Many traditional jobs are _____ (bị đe dọa) by new technologies.
 7. Low-skilled workers are more likely to _____ (có nguy cơ mất việc) because of AI.
 8. People who do _____ (công việc lặp đi lặp lại) are especially affected by automation.
 9. The use of AI can _____ (giảm nhu cầu lao động) in some areas.
 10. Many workers feel stressed because AI creates _____ (sự bất ổn việc làm) in the workplace.
-

B. Complete the sentences about skills and adaptation.

11. Modern jobs often _____ (yêu cầu kỹ năng mới) that many workers do not have.
 12. Some people _____ (thiếu các kỹ năng cần thiết) to work with AI systems.
 13. Older workers may _____ (gặp khó khăn trong việc thích nghi) to new technology.
 14. Workers may need _____ (đào tạo lại / nâng cao kỹ năng) to stay competitive.
 15. Many people _____ (gặp khó khăn khi tìm việc) because machines do the work.
-

C. Complete the sentences about social and economic problems.

16. Today, many workers have to _____ (cạnh tranh với máy móc) for the same jobs.
17. Some companies _____ (phụ thuộc quá nhiều vào công nghệ) instead of human labour.
18. The use of AI can _____ (gây áp lực lên người lao động) to work faster.
19. Job losses can _____ (gây áp lực tài chính) for families.
20. In the long term, AI may _____ (tạo ra các vấn đề xã hội) if unemployment rises.