

ADJECTIVES

Read the chart to learn some things about adjectives.

ADJECTIVES	EXAMPLES
1. Adjectives come in front of nouns, not after them.	The talented young musicians
2. Adjectives can also follow linking verbs.	be The children are happy. seem You seem sad. look Brides always look beautiful. smell The cookies smell delicious. taste Candy tastes sweet. feel Silk feels smooth.
3. Adjectives have only one form. Use the same adjective with singular and plural nouns.	a terrible storm terrible storms (not terribles storms) a cute child cute children (not cutes children)
4. A compound adjective is two or more words that function as an adjective. A compound adjective often has a hyphen or hyphens between its parts.	a one-hour drive one-child policy a part-time job a reddish-gold sunset
5. In compound adjectives with hyphenated number-noun combinations, the noun is always singular.	a five-dollar bill (not a five-dollars bill) a bill which is five dollars a two-year-old child (not a two-years-old child) a child who is two years old a four-storey house a six-foot-high wall (not a six-feet-high wall) a wall which is six feet high
6. Some nouns can also function as adjectives.	the English book tennis balls a shoe store the Japanese students
7. Proper adjectives (that is, adjectives referring to nationalities, languages, places, and so on) are capitalized.	an Egyptian custom my Spanish class the Cuban government Asian languages
8. Present and past participles can be used as adjectives.	a boring class bored students a cooking class a cooked meal breaking news a broken heart a swimming pool the stolen money

The + adj points to a group in society => The poor/ The jobless

a class which is boring => Students are bored

An interesting guy

A frightened child
A cycling lane

A frightening film
a sleeping child

A newly built temple

PRACTICE 8

Identifying Adjectives

Read the paragraph. Circle the adjectives. (Hint: Do not circle possessive adjectives such as my and its.)

My First Car

My first car was old and ugly, but I loved it anyway. It was a very bright shade of blue, but it also had green, yellow, and gray paint in different places. The body was in terrible condition. It had several bumps¹. The lock on the hood was broken, so I had to tie down the hood with a strong rope. Also, the back bumper was rusty, and the front window had a big crack in it. The inside of the car was also in bad condition. The door handle on the passenger side was broken, so you couldn't open the passenger door from the inside. The seats had at least ten large holes in them. Also, the gas gauge was stuck. It always showed "full," so I often ran out of gas. The speedometer was broken too, so I never knew how quickly I was driving. My old VW had many faults², but in my mind it was perfect.

PRACTICE 12

Using Synonyms (Words that have the same meaning and can be interchangeable)

Use the synonym pairs in the box to write two related sentences about the people listed.

angry – mad	patient – calm
caring – kind	sad – unhappy
funny – amusing	tense – nervous
grown up – mature	trustworthy – dependable

1. A classmate: Hiro looks unhappy today. He says rainy days always make him feel sad.
2. A family member: My cousin is a very funny person. He can make even the most boring stories sound amusing.
3. A good friend: I really admire my best friend's patient character. He can stay calm even in the most stressful situations.

extraordinary lives

abnormal

4. A teacher: My math teacher is the kindest person I know. She always shows a caring attitude to anyone she meets.
5. Yourself: There is nothing that can make me angry easily, but I often get mad when my son bites his nails.

Adverbs

dress impressively treat me nicely

Like other adverbs, most adverbs of manner are formed by adding -ly to an adjective. Notice these examples from the model: Some words end with -ly, but are not adverbs attractively clearly carefully easily

cheaply thoroughly

friendly lovely lively

Note that some adjectives are irregular and do not add -ly to form the adverb. Here are two examples from the model:

well (adverb form of good) hard (adverb form of hard) fast

PRACTICE 2

Use the words in the box to complete the sentences.

attractively	cheaply	easily	thoroughly
carefully	clearly	hard	well

- If you want to play the piano well, you will have to practice several hours a day.
- Study hard, and you will pass the test easily.
- Speak slowly and clearly so your listeners can understand each word.
- Make sure the paint dries thoroughly before you apply a second coat.
- Winter driving can be dangerous. The first rule to remember is to drive carefully.

6. It isn't easy to live cheaply in a big city, but here are some ways that you can save money.
7. Press down hard, and continue to press for at least a minute.
8. Here are some tips on how to decorate your apartment attractively but inexpensively.

PRACTICE 16

Using Words that Describe How to Do Things

Use each phrase to write a sentence about a person you know. Then use a word from the box to write a second sentence that gives an example or adds more information.

attractively	cheaply	easily	thoroughly
carefully	clearly	hard	well

1. dresses attractively.

My aunt always dresses attractively. Her closet is full of clothes, so she can choose her outfits carefully.

2. doesn't speak clearly

My grandfather doesn't speak clearly. You have to listen carefully to make out what he says.

3. studies very hard

My classmate studies very hard. She always jots down every single detail from her lessons thoroughly.

4. plays a sport well

My cousin plays basketball very well. He can make a three-point shot easily.

5. learns languages easily

My son learns languages easily. He can speak well in any language he learns only after few lessons.

6. treats animals gently

My grandmother treats animals gently. She can live cheaply to buy expensive items for her pets.

ADJECTIVES AND ADVERBS IN BASIC SENTENCES

Subjects, objects of verbs, and objects of prepositions are often nouns, so they can be described by adjectives. Verbs can be described by adverbs. Look at the examples again.

1. ^{ADJECTIVE} Hard ^{ADJECTIVE} adventure travel ^{ADVERB} usually ^{ADJECTIVE} presents ^{ADJECTIVE} physical challenges (for ^{ADJECTIVE} active people).

2. ^{ADJECTIVE} Scuba diving and ^{ADJECTIVE} skydiving ^{ADJECTIVE} have a ^{ADJECTIVE} dangerous element.

3. ^{ADJECTIVE} Soft ^{ADJECTIVE} adventure travelers ^{ADJECTIVE} enjoy ^{ADJECTIVE} incredible ^{ADJECTIVE} experiences but ^{ADJECTIVE} live ^{ADVERB} comfortably.

4. ^{ADJECTIVE} Language courses and ^{ADJECTIVE} homestays (in ^{ADJECTIVE} foreign countries) ^{ADJECTIVE} teach ^{ADJECTIVE} new ^{ADJECTIVE} skills and ^{ADJECTIVE} affect ^{ADVERB} travelers ^{ADVERB} positively.

environmentally ^{adv} friendly ^{adj} attractively ^{adv} decorated ^{adj}

very ^{adv} beautiful ^{adj}

PRACTICE 13

Editing a Paragraph for Word Form Errors

Find six more errors in the use of adjectives and adverbs. Make corrections.

Foodies

Foodies love incredible meals, so they eat and drink adventurous^{ly} on their vacations. In their globally^{ly} travels, they enthusiastically^{ly} try the local cuisine. In addition to popular restaurants with professional chefs, they visit family restaurants and bravely^{ly} eat unusually^{ly} foods in open-air markets. Another typically^{ly} activity for food lovers is taking cooking classes. With their instructor, they shop for specially^{ly} ingredients and watch demonstrations. Then they skillfully use what they have learned. True foodies usually do one final thing before the end of a trip. They careful^{ly} put all of their new recipes in a safe place so that they can quick^{ly} use them when they get home. Clearly, these travelers want good food both at home and on the road.

For transitive verbs (followed by an object):

- they try the local cuisine enthusiastically
- they enthusiastically try the local cuisine

For intransitive verbs (cannot be followed by an object):

- She studies hard (but not "hard study")
- He runs fast (but not "fast run")
- He performs poorly (but not "poorly perform")

VOCAB AND SENTENCE STRUCTURE

PRACTICE 1

Fill in the table with the NOUN form of the given adjective

Noun	Adjective
1 ambition	ambitious
2 cheerfulness	cheerful
3 creativity	creative
4 enthusiasm	enthusiastic
5 flexibility	flexible
6 generosity	generous
7 honesty	honest
8 idealism	idealistic
9 intelligence	intelligent
10 loyalty	loyal
11 maturity	mature
12 modesty	modest
13 optimism	optimistic
14 patience	patient
15 pessimism	pessimistic
16 punctuality	punctual
17 realism	realistic
18 self-confidence	self-confident
19 seriousness	serious
20 shyness	shy
21 sociability	sociable
22 stubbornness	stubborn
23 sympathy	sympathetic
24 thoughtfulness	thoughtful

2. Complete the phrases for describing personal qualities with the words below.

common communicating courage energy initiative lack sense skills

- 1 have a good sense of humour
- 2 have lots of / no common sense
- 3 have good organisational /communicational/teamwork/ leadership skills
- 4 lack self-confidence
- 5 have physical courage
- 6 be good at communicating
- 7 show lots of initiative
- 8 have lots of energy (= hyperactive)

3. Complete the sentences with adjectives and phrases from exercises 1 and 2.

- 1 Sue is very pessimistic She always thinks things will get worse.
- 2 Harry loves telling jokes. He has a good sense of humor
- 3 Try to be punctual It isn't good to be late.
- 4 She always tells the truth. She's very honest
- 5 She's always telling everyone how clever she is. She isn't very modest (arrogant/boastful)
- 6 He loves being with other people. He's the most sociable person I know!
- 7 She loves dangerous sports. She has great physical courage
- 8 I can talk to her about my problems. She always listens. She's very sympathetic
- 9 He always knows what to do. You don't need to tell him. He shows a lot of initiative

Looking at Vocabulary: Intensifiers

We can describe how strong a characteristic is by using words like very and extremely.

He is a very hard worker.

They are exceptionally skilled.

She is fairly good at the job.

We are quite sure about it.

These words are known as intensifiers because they intensify (or strengthen) the meaning of the words they describe. The diagram shows the relative weakness and strength of these intensifiers:

INTENSIFIERS

PRACTICE 2 Looking at Intensifiers

- A Look at the intensifiers in the diagram above. Find and underline them in the writing model. Then circle the word that each one intensifies.

First of all, they are very friendly.

- B Use a variety of intensifiers from the diagram above to complete these sentences about yourself.

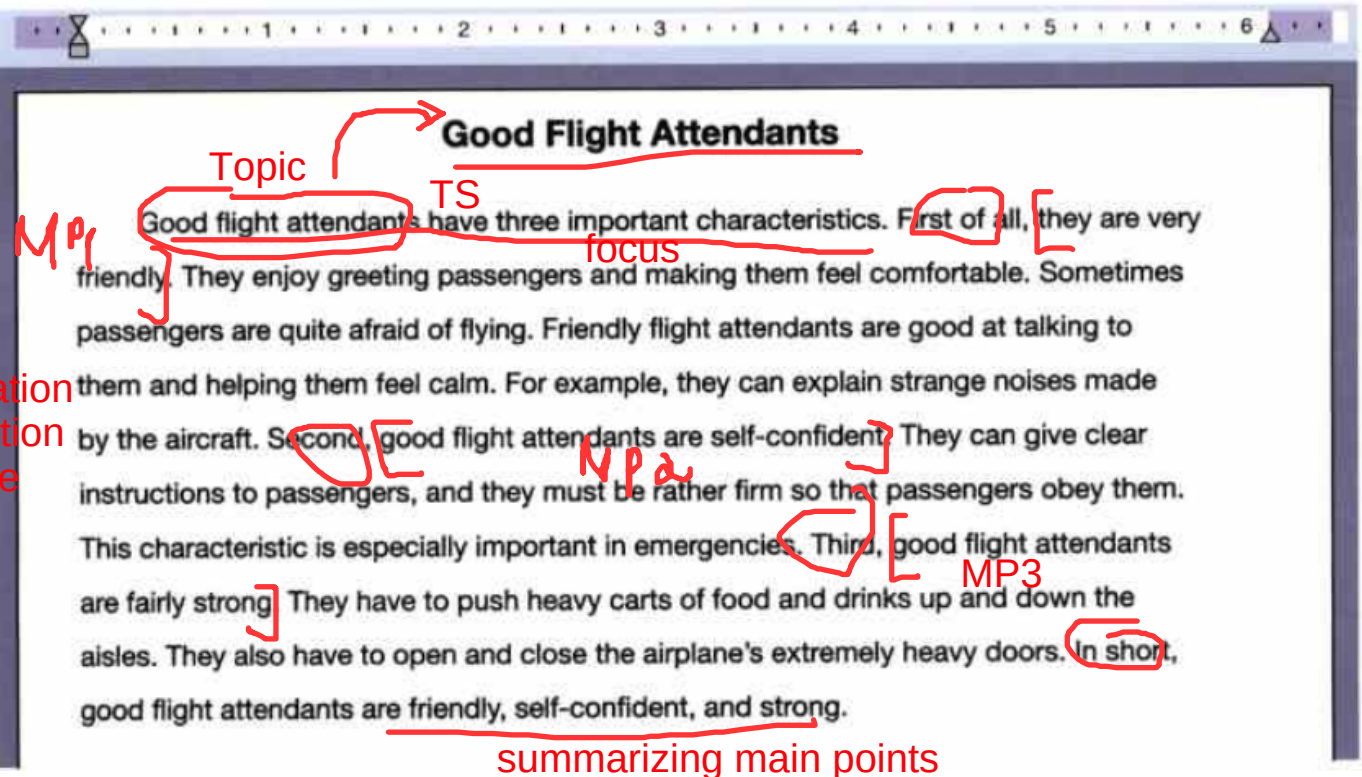

1. I am very creative.
2. I am _____ talkative.
3. I am _____ organized.
4. I am _____ funny.
5. I am _____ strong.
6. I am _____ patient.
7. I am _____ good at cooking.
8. I am _____ good at math.

LOOKING AT THE MODEL

The writing model is about qualities that good flight attendants have.

Work with a partner or in a small group. Read the model. Then answer the questions.

Writing Model

Good Flight Attendants

Good flight attendants have three important characteristics. First of all, they are very friendly. They enjoy greeting passengers and making them feel comfortable. Sometimes passengers are quite afraid of flying. Friendly flight attendants are good at talking to them and helping them feel calm. For example, they can explain strange noises made by the aircraft. Second, good flight attendants are self-confident. They can give clear instructions to passengers, and they must be rather firm so that passengers obey them. This characteristic is especially important in emergencies. Third, good flight attendants are fairly strong. They have to push heavy carts of food and drinks up and down the aisles. They also have to open and close the airplane's extremely heavy doors. In short, good flight attendants are friendly, self-confident, and strong.

supporting sentences: mainpoints & supporting details

- topic sentence: Subject (role/job) & qualities/characteristics/traits/ attributes.
- each main point = one main quality
- supporting details to explain why each quality is important/necessary
- Concluding sentence to summarize the main qualities.

Topic Sentence: _____

A. Main Point: _____

1. Supporting Detail: _____

B. Main Point: _____

1. Supporting Detail: _____

C. Main Point: _____

1. Supporting Detail: _____

Concluding Sentence: _____

THE TOPIC SENTENCE

- In order to become a/an successful, a person should possess the following qualities.
- There are several important characteristics of a good
- The following attributes are required in order for a person to become a successful.....
- It is necessary for a to have the following qualities.

SUPPORTING SENTENCES

- Each main point: A quality
- Supporting details for each main point: The examples/reasons that explain why that quality is important

NOTE: Remember to use the transition signals in your supporting sentences

First, First of all, Second, Third, In addition, Also, Finally, for example for instance

Examples:

- First of all, a teacher should be extremely patient. For example,...
- Secondly, a teacher should be an extremely patient person. For example,..
- In addition, being a teacher requires extreme patience. For instance,
- Finally, a teacher should be a person with extreme patience. For instance,

This means that.....

This is because.....

This is particularly important when.....

This is usually necessary if.....

To be specific,.....

To put it simply,.....

In other words,.....

In fact,.....

That is,.....

By illustration,.....

End your paragraph by summarizing the main qualities. For example,

To summarize, employers look for dependable, responsible team players.

In brief, nursing is a profession for people who are caring, organized, calm, strong, and intelligent.

- Writers often use a conclusion signal to show their readers that this is the end of the paragraph. The chart lists several conclusion signals. Notice that there is always a comma after a conclusion signal.

CONCLUSION SIGNALS
To conclude, In conclusion,	To sum up, To summarize, In summary,	In brief, In short, Indeed,

WRITING PRACTICE

Plan an outline and write an 150 word paragraph about the following topic:

"Characteristics of a good student"

Topic Sentence: _____

✓ A. Main Point: First of all, a good needs to be/should be hard-working/diligent.

1. Supporting Detail: _____

✓ B. Main Point: Furthermore/In addition to hard work, being a good student requires good time management skills.

1. Supporting Detail: _____

✓ C. Main Point: Finally, a good student will excel at not only study, but also extracurricular activities.

1. Supporting Detail: _____

Concluding Sentence: _____